

FOR 1898

We don't intend to make any promises of an unusual character for the new year. To use a homely expression, "we are still doing business at the old stand." We propose to continue along the lines heretofore existing. That is, in our prescription department we assure careful, intelligent and prompt service; in our sundry department we carry almost every approved aid for the convenience of the nurse or the comfort of a patient. Just now Hot Water Bags are in demand—$1.25 for the three quart size.

BUXTON'S.

This has become an old saying with the people of this city. During the past three years we have demonstrated that we are hustling, wide-awake, up-to-date people, always on the alert to secure the earliest and best products to satisfy the demands of our ever increasing trade. Nothing is too good for our store. Poor goods we refuse to buy.

FISH AND OYSTER BUSINESS

is booming. We handle the celebrated

CITY AND COUNTY IN BRIEF.

Small Paragraphs of General Interest.

The News of a Day in Phoenix and Its Tributary Region Presented in a Nutshell—Doings of People and Other Matters.

The many friends of Mrs. A. C. Baker will regret to learn that she is quite ill.

Woodward & Burnett have removed their law offices from the Porter building to the Creighton building on North First Avenue.

Edson Carey of New York city was yesterday appointed commissioner of deeds for Arizona. J. M. Burnett of Phoenix was appointed notary public.

The ladies of the Thursday afternoon 2 o'clock club entertained the gentlemen on Wednesday evening, February 16, at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Thalheimer.

A big $25 flag, bought by the supervisors, was received yesterday. It will be unfurled to Salt River valley breezes for the first time on Washington's birthday.

Lester Jackson has returned from a trip to Chihuahua, Mexico, where he went to examine some gold properties. He also visited some mines in Pima county on his return trip.

A dispatch received at The Republican office from Gila Bend last night says that on account of the sudden illness of Justice Kaltenbach the preliminary examination of the Andersons will be continued until next Tuesday.

John Ray, arrested for trying to steal five bottles of whisky from Stein's saloon, was yesterday sentenced to forty days in the county jail by Justice Johnston. He is also under a seven-day sentence from the police court, where he was first taken.

Articles of incorporation of the Norman Mining company were filed in the office of the territorial secretary yesterday. The incorporators are: Anson Hilton, H. L. Wilton, A. J. Kennedy, W. S. Egan and Samuel McCall, all San Francisco parties.

District Deputy Morrell of the Arizona B. & P. O. E. Selim Michaelson, A. A. Long and Billy Myers will leave on February 21 for Silver City, N. M., to institute a lodge of Elks. It is possible that other members of the local lodge will attend. A rate of one and one-half fare has been secured.

At a meeting of the general fire department last night it was decided to respond to an invitation by the Washington's birthday reception committee and turn out in parade that day. It was also decided to give a ball at a time not yet set. It was further determined to issue a check to C. C. Cechetti, a member of the Yucatec hose company, whose leg was lately broken while he was attending a fire.

When Mother Goose sang "The cow jumped over the moon" she had in mind the prices of cattle in the Salt River valley. They are going up day by day. Several carloads of steers have lately been sold at $3.50 and it is predicted that $3.75 will be reached within a few days. By a reference to The Republican's Kansas City market it will be seen that figures are steadily creeping up in the east.

"Very sorry, but I must leave and take my medicine in the north," said Mr. P. Walsh of Williams, who at the moment grabbed his Coccinello clothing and made for the bus which was then waiting. Mr. Walsh has put a week or more in the valley and he dreaded leaving associates and sunshine to go north and hug a fire. The gentleman said that acreage was a little high in the valley, but after all he might take an improved ranch rather than improve one. The valley was all right and he would come again.

Joseph Mulhatton yesterday received a letter from B. F. Pritchard of Los Angeles, who lately closed a contract for the erection of a smelter on Humbug creek, saying that the construction will be begun soon and the first run will be made before May 1. The capacity at the beginning will be forty tons. Within a day or two Mr. Pritchard will start several heavy teams and wagons to Phoenix and will follow a few days later. He is also going to inspect various mining claims in the vicinity of Florence, Riverside and Globe with a view to putting up a smelter.

At the regular drill meeting last night of B company, Sergeant Omstead was elected to succeed Lieutenant J. N. Zeigenfuss, resigned. When the canvass began there were several candidates for the vacant Lieutenantcy, but they finally dwindled down to two, Sergeants Omstead and Hill. Since then the campaign has been warm and canvasses were made daily and several times a day. There was some uncertainty on account of failure to forecast the attendance at the election. There are sixty-three men on the rolls, but it was not believed that more than forty would be present. There were forty-four. Of these twenty-four voted for Sergeant Omstead and twenty for Sergeant Hill.

James C. Goodwin returned yesterday from Tucson, where he went to sell the rails of the defunct Tempe city railway. He was successful. The Tempe street railway for a long time bore the distinction of being the only one in the United States on which no fare was charged. The Goodwin brothers owned the right of way, the track, the car and the mule that hauled it. Every passenger was his own conductor. He drove the car to the end of the line and left it there to be driven back by the next man who happened to be going in the opposite direction. Whoever hitched, fed and watered the mule at night to give him life and strength for the exertions of the next day is one of the many unsolvable mysteries which have perplexed mankind. Perhaps the mule died and that is why it was concluded to tear up the track and sell it to Tucson.

The free lecture at Moss hall yesterday afternoon was listened to by an intellectual class of women. The subject was one every woman, old and young, feels an interest in, and Dr. Astor in her quiet and lady-like manner portrayed the lovely and lovable traits of a woman who desires to remain youthful and charming, and how she can choose a good man for a husband and how always to retain his affections. As the doctor told with flowing language many an anecdote to elucidate her subject, how charming wives had won from drunkenness and forgetfulness recalcitrant husbands, many eyes were dim with tears. All Phoenix ladies should attend these lectures. They will hear many things to their advantage. A lecture at 3 p. m. will be given by Dr. Astor at Moss hall on Sunday to the general public, and on next Tuesday at the same hour to ladies only.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. J. W. Bell of Denver, Colo., arrived at the Ford yesterday.

T. C. King of Kansas City stopped at the Hotel Adams yesterday.

J. P. Adams of Chicago was among yesterday's arrivals in town. He is at the Hotel Adams.

Mr. E. B. Gage of Prescott arrived in town last night. He is a guest of the Hotel Adams.

H. H. Shaw, a traveling man from Denver, came to town yesterday and put up at the Ford.

Mrs. E. G. Hubbard of San Antonio, Tex., came to town yesterday. She is stopping at the Ford.

W. H. Code and wife and Mrs. William Baird of Mesa were in the city yesterday, guests of the Hotel Adams.

Among yesterday's arrivals in town was William Best, a San Francisco commercial representative. He is at the Ford.

W. E. Ferguson and E. S. Hayden of Los Angeles arrived from the north last night. They are stopping at the Hotel Adams.

Charles O'Malley, the White Hills mining man, left last night for Los Angeles. He will go to Klondyke from that point.

William J. Howarth and W. D. Mackay of San Francisco returned last night from a visit to Castle Creek hot springs. They are guests of the Hotel Adams.

Mr. J. B. Dougherty, the well known plasterer, has returned after an absence of five weeks in San Francisco. The weather was extremely disagreeable during most of the time and it is safe to say Mr. Dougherty is in no hurry to go west again. The sunshine and balmy weather of the valley was "welcome to him as the flowers that bloom in the spring."

M. P. Moore, deputy internal revenue collector, returned from the south yesterday. He said that Nogales was particularly lively, a building boom being on. At Bisbee he spent four days. This, to his mind, was the biggest copper camp in Arizona and is growing in importance daily. Progression was the watchword at Tucson. With the wedge out that town would grow fast.

Miss Daisy Randal returned to Phoenix yesterday from Springfield, Mass., where she has been teaching physical culture. It will be remembered that Miss Randal went to Boston some years ago to study oratory. She has since graduated from the Emerson school of oratory. It is understood that Miss Randal will remain in the city until fall and will no doubt secure a large class in physical culture.

THE RECEPTION.

The Festivities in Phoenix of Washington's Birthday.

Preparations for the reception on Washington's birthday are going on apace. No pains are being spared to show territorial honor to Governor Myron H. McCord, Secretary Charles H. Akers, Chief Justice Webster Street, Associate Justices R. E. Sloan, F. M. Doan and G. R. Davis, Territorial Auditor George W. Vickers, Territorial Treasurer C. W. Johnstone, Attorney-General C. M. Frazier, Territorial Superintendent A. P. Shewman and Adjutant-General R. Allyn Lewis and other members of the governor's staff.

The executive rooms will be elaborately decorated both within and without. The exterior decorations will be of an unusually attractive character. There will be an afternoon parade of the military companies of the valley and the Phoenix fire department and the pupils of the Indian school. Music by the Pioneer band will be struck up at 7 o'clock and the ceremonies of the reception in the rooms will begin at 8. An orchestra will be stationed in the legislative rooms where light refreshments will be served.

At the close of the reception there will be a grand ball at the Hotel Adams. To all these festivities the whole territory is cordially invited.

SHERIFF MARTIN TRIAL.

Evidence Showing the Prisoner Expected to Kill Some One.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 17.—This was the 14th day of the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies, charged with the killing of strikers at Lattimer.

Marcy Guncade testified that he was marching with the strikers at West Hazelton when the sheriff seized him. He begged to be let go, whereupon the sheriff said: "You seem a good fellow; you had better get away from this, there is going to be trouble." George Roseter, in a long story of the shooting, brought out the fact, not given before, that the firing of the first shot, the flag bearer at the head of the column of the strikers fell dead. The witness did not know the man's name.

WILHELMINA'S BETROTHAL.

The Hague, Feb. 17.—There is some talk of the betrothal of Queen Wilhelmina to Prince Louis Napoleon, colonel of the lancers in the Russian army.
